1. The Langenau (P 52/C 52) airfield, about 8 or 10 kms north of Breslau, was formerly an experimental airfield of the Junkers Firm. It was destroyed during the war. A detail of the I Dn of the 3rd Polish AF Engr Regt, which was stationed in Lodz (Q 52/O 93), was detached to Langenau in 1946 to ship all available installations from the field. According to personal observation, the runway and all installations were destroyed or stolen. No military personnel were stationed at the field, which had presumably been abandoned by the Polish Air Force. *

2. A damaged hangar was being dismantled and shipped to the Gdynia-Babiedoly (Q 55/Y 45) airfield. **

3. said in April 1950 that all installations at the field were dismantled and that the field has not been used.

Comment. This is the first report on the Langenau airfield.

Comment. The transfer of a hangar to Gdynia was reported before by two other
